The Republican Congressional Convention of the First District of West Virginis will be held in the City of Graiton, on the 30th day of June next, immediately after the adjournment of the State Convertion, for the pur ose of nominating a candidate for Congress, and for attending to such other business as may come before the Convention.

The Republic as of the counties comprising the District are requested to appoint delegates to said Convention at such time and place as to them shall be most convenient.

By order of the Congressional Executive Committe
W. J. W. COWDEN, Chairman.

We made mention some weeks ago o the fact that a letter had been prepared and sent forward from this city to the State Steamship Company at Glasgow, Scotland, suggesting the name West Vir ginia as the title of the new steamer now building by that company for service in its line between Glasgow and New York. The company already has six steamer afloat named respectilvey, State of Alabama, State of Florida, State of Nevada, State of Georgia, State of Indiana, and State of tinsburg was held at the Court House on Pennsylvania.

Jepson, of this city, suggested the name of "for the campaign." Notwithstanding "West Virginia," and besides sending a there had been no public notice given of Jepson, of this city, suggested the name of suggestion to this effect to the office of the company at Glasgow, sent Prof. Maury's ent, and the enthusiasm over the ticket Centennial exhibit of the State's resources and also some local statistics in regard to the city of Wheeling. A Plais Story That Brands Lewis Baker With Falschood.

It suits Lewis Baker, of the Register, who is seeking to divert attention from the miserable position in which he stands in the eyes of all honest men by virtue of the damaging disclosures touching his monetary dealings with his party, to pervert the truth in regard to other people. He would have his readers believe that in compliance with some threat of expulsion of C. Chicago the Editor of this paner was known. The Chair—For what purpose does the gentleman from New York rise?

Senator Conkling—To make an inquiry of the Chair which, although this motion is not debatable, is in order. I beg to inquire of the Chair, there being a difference of understanding around me, whether the delegates referred to in that resolution did state that they would support the nominee of the convention. The Chair—The Chair does not deem it within his province to undertake to put a meaning on the speeches and addresses that have been made.

Mr. Conkling—One word further. If I understood, or could understand, an affirmative answer to the question I put to the Chair, it would give me great pleasure to withdraw this resolution. Therefore, I think, in some way, the Chair might enable us to know whether those are right who do not understand these delegates to say that they would vote for our nominee, or those who understood otherwise.

Mr. Campbell—The gentleman from New York has raised this question for his swn purpose here, and so far as I am concerned I have no further explanations to make, and the issue between us may go to the convention.

In addition to this extract from th record we append the following extract from a dispatch of John W. Mason, the member of the National Republican Committee from West Virginia, which was published in the INTELLICENCER of June 5:

"Mr. Conkling sawhe had made a great mistake, and began seeking a hole to get out. He enquired whether he understood the gentlemen from West Virginia correctly. They declined to make explanations. Mr. Campbell again arose, and addressing Mr. Conkling in a manner which expressed a determination to stick to the right let the consequences be what they might, declared he had no explanation to make; that the gentleman from New York had seen fit to make the issue and the convention might decide it.

When confronted by these determined men and this emphatic refusal to explain or retreat, nothing was left for the great machinist but a square back down, which he did most ingloriously, amidst the shouts of ten thousand people, by withdrawing his resolution. Every one seemed to enjoy the discomiture of Mr. Conkling. bublished in the Intelligencer of June 5:

ed to prepare a program, and during the deliberations of the committee the time was occupied by several gentlemen in impromptur ratification speeches.

Hon, IW. H. H. Flick, who in "Lang Syne" was a pupil of the "next President," spoke enthusiastically of Gen. Garfield, whom he believes to be one of the best and purest men the country has ever produced. Mr. F. remembers with dictinctness much of the distinguished statesman's early life, to whom, also, the recently published early predictions of Gen. Garfield's ultimate greatness are quite familiar.

Mr. Chairman, I have been a Republican in the State of Virginia from my youth. For twenty-five years I have published a Republican newspaper in that State. I have supported every Presidential nominee in that time. I expect to support the nominee of this Convention. But, Mr. Chairman, I feel as a Republican that there is a principle in this question, and I will never come into any Contention and agree, before hand, that whatever many bedone by that Convention shall have my endorsement. Sir, as a free man whom God made free, I always carry my sovereignty under my own hat. I never intend that any body of men shall take it from me.

The record will further show that after these remarks Mr. Conkling pushed forbe met by protests from such eminent borrow three hundred dollars to pay house rent, and so ignorant of the commonest financial process that he did not know how to negotiate an ordinary note of hand. cepting grass, the meadows are generally very light and the pastures short for this time of the year. Wheat is very good and ripening fast, some of it will be cut down this week. Harvest will be early.

Conventions are the rage just now. Chicago, first and greatest, made a very wise selection, generally spoken of in the superlative degree, as the best. The Democratic primary of Richland sent Brown delegates to their Convention; and it is said by some who pretend to know, that the Republican primary will send a solid delegation for Parks; but a number of us Republicans would like to see Louis J. Bayha (Cashier of German Bank) in due course of time step out of the Bank up into the Sheriff's office.

Then comes our old friend A. B. Caldwell. I think his chances are excellent if he is nominated. He made a thorough can was so the county about two weeks the beite after the interests of his case.

he is nominated. He made a thorough canvass of the county about two weeks ago, looking after the interests of his case in the coming campaign, and the verdict returned by the Convention will be, "He has been tried and not found wanting, but true, faithful, and able to defend a case alone; therefore we are willing to try him again.

One more I will mentien and then stop. Sam Busbey is a candidate for Assessor (country district); he is a young man well qualified for the office, and as the selection belongs to Richland this time, the voice of this district is that the convention cannot do better than nominate him. If you think this worthy of publication, perhaps you may hear from me again.
